MONARCH GROUP SOLD IN EAST

That interest in the Divide is not all dead was indicated today when deals passed transferring the Monarch group of seventy acres to eastern buyers. The transaction was completed through the office of Francis Moore, broker and promoter who secured the option from Herman A. Farms and associates. The claims are situated in the north end of the Divide district near the Sunbeam and Pyramid groups on which good values have been found and the price paid was represented by a handsome sum that indicated the intention of the new owners to begin deep development by sinking a shaft to a depth of 1,000 feet. The locations were made after the first rush in the Divide district was over, and the surface has strong croppings that are regarded as promising for deep-level work.

NORTH STAR ORE BODY WIDENS AND IMPROVES

Running true to form Superintendent Lowe rather expected to hear on his return that the recent strike in the North Star had pinched out. In spite of the strong looking ledge that was exposed when he left for Luning last week, his surprise may be imagined when he visited the mine this morning to find that the ledge had widened out to three feet, showing a ribbon of ruby silver and that the vein had been opened for a distance of forty feet, where he had left only fifteen feet in sight. The values also had improved considerably, making $44,000 without cutting and giving a guarantee for shipping which will enable the company to increase its tonnage. The ledge which was opened originally on the intermediate level between the 500 and 1,000 extends to the 800 and may go higher. Two more machine men have been placed in the stope and the North Star will revert to its old type among the best producers of the district.

NO RECOGNITION GIVEN ORDINARY U. S. SAILORS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Taking up the contention of Rear Admiral Wm. Sims in the matter of naval medal awards, Secretary Daniels before the senate subcommittee took emphatic issue with the admiral. Sims said his views were at variance with those of Sims on the importance of service at sea compared with shore duty. Daniels called attention to the records showing that during the last twenty-five years Sims served about nine years at sea. A further study of naval recommendations was ordered when it was found that only 11% of the 30,000 men in the navy during the war had been recommended for any high honor, Daniels said. He quoted Sims as saying that he had not recommended any enlisted men for medals as "two had nothing to give them." Daniels said the act creating awards intended no distinction between officers and enlisted men.
